Were you a fan? Are you still a fan who jams at some ABBA tuning in while driving home from work every day? Were you in front and center of the theater when Mama Mia hit theaters? If these sentences describe you, this is the questionnaire you thought you'd never find. Are we starting to find out what ABBA song is the theme song of your life? If you remember correctly, ABBA is a Swedish vocal group formed by Agnetha, Bjorn, Benni and Anni-Frid. The group first hit the airwaves in 1974 in Sweden, and soon after, they made it across the pond in the United States. The group is one of the best-selling recording groups of all time, and estimates indicate that they have sold up to 500 million records. With tunes like Waterloo, Dancing Queen and Super Trouper, ABBA is still a very popular group. And although they disbanded in the 1980s, ABBA remained in the minds of its fans on stage and the big screen with numerous adaptations of Mama Mia, the musical based on her songs. So, if you remember ABBA, and you can't wait for your, rumored, upcoming new album (yay!), then take this quiz to find out which ABBA song describes your life. What happens when you have to make a big decision or life change and you're almost paralyzed by fear? Many times, it is our perception of the circumstances or situation that is responsible for putting us in this state, because we can not always see the bigger picture. And if you're like me, it's hard to do anything when you swallow your own negativity. This is where having a theme song is handy. When I decided to live abroad in England for a summer, I remember getting off the plane and thinking, Now what? You're alone in a country where you don't know a soul! What forced you to make such a stupid decision? Before I let the wheels of my head spin more, a snippet of a song popped into my head that pacified my inner turmoil, a song my grandfather used to play for me as a child, Don't Worry, Be Happy (by Bobby McFerrin). As the song played in my head, I started laughing at myself, and even smiled. In every life we have some problems / â€ˆ But when you worry you do it double / â€ˆ Don't worry, be happy... All my apprehension seemed to melt away. This song has stayed with me even today, through job interviews, tough times and even on days when I just need some motivation to do my best. Whether you're stuck in a routine or falls in love, we'll tell you what your country theme song should be! Country music began in the early 1920s in the Southern States of America. Some of the early singers included performers such as Jimmie Rodgers and Vernon Dalhart. In the following decades, stars such as Johnny Cash, George Strait, Reba McEntire and Dolly Parton took centre stage in our hearts. If you feel like you're in a routine, maybe you're like Johnny Cash's Folsom Prison Blues. You might feel that life is happening to you, but we're sure you'll get out soon on top! If you're trying to open yourself up to a relationship that looks like it's not meant to be, you might be dealing with a complicated situation like Carolyn Dawn Johnson. Has Zac Brown Band gone through the little things in life? Maybe you feel nostalgic about the past, and Alan Jackson knows how to harness that vibe better than anyone you know. Answer these questions, and we'll let you know if you sing the blues or if you drink a cold beer on a Friday night!
